NATHAN CABOT HALE... SCULPTOR

on

THE REMOVAL OF FIG LEAVES

This twenty page illustrated document discusses the effect of cultural suppression on the Art of the 20th century . . . in the light of its eight thousand year old development. It illuminates the role of the critic, teacher, museum and Art dealer in perpetuating Art forms that have as their essential purpose the evasion of mankind's most urgent needs: . . . the regaining of contact with his own depth . . . recognition of his biological oneness and interdependence . . . contact with living nature. It develops aesthetic criteria for a new approach to the role of the human being in artistic expression.
