

SERVICES FOR DR. KLEIN.

New York Times (1923-Current file); Mar 23, 1926
 ProQuest Historical Newspapers New York Times (1851-2007) w/ Index (1851-1993)
 pg. 27

SERVICES FOR DR. KLEIN.300 Rabbis Head Mourners at the Impressive Funeral.

A succession of funeral services was held yesterday for the Rev. Dr. Philip Klein, for thirty-five years rabbi of the Congregation Ohab Zedek of 18 West 116th Street, who died Sunday at his home, 137 West 119th Street. Owing to the serious illness of his widow, who had not been informed of his death, no service was held at the residence. The first ceremony took place at the funeral chapel at 247 Lenox Avenue, where the crowd of mourners filled the street. Three hundred rabbis, headed by the Rev. M. Margulies and the Rev. Isaiah Levy, took turns in carrying the coffin from the house to the Lenox Avenue address and from there to the synagogue on 116th Street, and on later occasions during the funeral. From the synagogue the procession went to 313 East Tenth Street, headquarters of the Jerusalem charitable organization, Jolel Shomre Hachomos, of which Dr. Klein was President. Before going to Washington Cemetery for the interment, a final service was held at the Norfolk Street Synagogue, where Dr. Klein performed his first duties in this country when the Ohab Zedek Congregation worshipped there.